

COACHING TO EXCELLENCE: AN INTRODUCTION TO INTEGRAL COACHING

This workshop introduces you to a compelling and rigorous methodology for developing yourself and helping your clients transform themselves.

- Discover the principles and practices of Integral Coaching
- Explore assessment models, questions, and distinctions that help clients move beyond their “stories” and open to new possibilities
- Custom-design practices that resolve difficult issues, elevate performance, and develop competence.

Based on the Integral Coaching Model, developed by James Flaherty of New Ventures West, the workshop is designed for management and organization development consultants, coaches, and others interested in a powerful methodology for developing people.

All participants who complete the 2-day course meet the New Ventures West prerequisite for the Professional Coaching Course.

Certified coaches can receive Continuing Coaching Education Units (CCEUs) for participating.

The Coaching to Excellence workshop is co-sponsored by Leadership Resource Group, Inc. and Loyola University Chicago.

Date and Time	November 22-23, 9 AM—6 PM
Location	Loyola University Chicago Room 1255 25 East Pearson Street
Enrollment	24 participants, maximum
Fee	$595
Discounting	If registered and paid by October 31 st — 10% — all participants 15% — Loyola students, MBA/HRIR/CORD/TRDV alums Members of the International Coach Federation and ODNChicago (Chicago Chapter of the National Organization Development Network)
	Contact Karen Szymanski at kszyman468@aol.com